The School has undertaken a research project on the primary schools conducted by the Pune Municipal Corporation. The study has been initiated with effect from September 2005 after receiving the permission of the Pune Municipal Corporation (PMC) and the Municipal Education Board for accessing the relevant original records of the PMC and for administering the proposed tests to the sample students. The twin objectives of the said study are:

- To record, analyse and study the trend of enrolment in every class in all types of schools during the last thirty years.
- To investigate the level of education at the primary level. This inquiry would involve understanding of aspects such as students' ability in reading, writing and arithmetic.

A Seminar based on the reports of the Associate Researchers was held on July 30-31, 2008 and detailed deliberations were held. Based on the same, a draft of the Final Report had been submitted by the Associate Researchers. Shri Abhay Tilak and the President read the drafts. Both of them came to the conclusion that it would not be useful to ask for further revision of the drafts. SUB-SECTION II

Prof. L. K. Deshpande

1) Project in hand

The Kanara Saraswat Association, a caste-based association of the Chitrapur Saraswats, invited me and Dr. Sudha Deshpande to undertake the census of population and a broad socioeconomic survey of the members of the Saraswat community. The office bearers of the Association wanted to help the needy but they did not know who and where the needy were and what they needed. The community is highly educated and unlikely to show a high incidence of absolute poverty. None knows the extent of income inequality in the community and how it is affecting the community socially and psychologically. The more articulate members express concern about loss of cohesion and interest in participation in Math and Association-based activities in general and alienation of the youth in particular; declining and ageing population of Saraswats; spread of consumerism; inter-caste marriages; dissonance between rising expectations of parents from their children and the native capabilities of children; increasing divorces; shifts in consumption patterns and so on.

Neither the precise number of households nor the population of Saraswats is known despite the pioneering role of community in holding cast-based census, the first being in 1911. According to the Directory of subscribers to the Shirali Math, the seat of the religious head of the community, the Saraswat households numbered 6400 in 2008/09. The community has a large pool of volunteers who collect annual subscriptions from households allotted to them. Many of them agreed to work as enumerators for the project. Preliminaries of the field work such as framing the questionnaire, training supervisors and investigators at different places in Maharashtra, Karnataka and Andhra Pradesh were done in January and February. Field work was started in March but we had no control over it. Consequently the response was poor and indifferent. The Association decided that we prepare an interim report based on the data from 2495 (39% of 6400) schedules that were computerised till October 31, 2011. This report relates to Part 1 of the schedule relating to census of population only. The Association informs us that they have succeeded in getting the some of the data gaps in these schedules filled and also collected additional schedules. We are awaiting the receipt of the additional data.

2)Article

‘Occupational Citizenship: Foundation of Utopia of Good Society’ to be published in the forthcoming issue of the Indian Journal of Labour Economics

Book Review Article on ‘Work after Globalization: Building Occupational Citizenship’ authored by Guy Standing, published by Edward Elgar, Cheltenham UK and Northampton, MA, USA.
